

Whispers.
Halloween will be the coming society evening in social circles. A number of affairs have been arranged for the "spook" night, and indications are that the festivities will be many. For one affair a ton of pumpkins has been ordered, and already busy fingers are at work preparing the jack-o-lanterns.

What has become of the man? Occasionally he is seen threading his way down the streets, but always alone, and the maid, too, does not seem disconsolate of late, although they are never together. The announcement was awaited by those who are always ready to say, "Of course, we knew that would be a case," and smile, "in that all-knowing way." Though professional duties may occupy his time, there are a score of suitors at her beck and call.

From Dame Ramey comes the information that one of a charming family of daughters is to wed a well-known young college lad. Truly, rumors are confusing, but if the latest can be verified, congratulations will come in the spring.

It shows at least that he can be devoted, even if his engagement has been announced, and to the other man.

Too bad that what seemed to be a romance has been nipped in the bud, although it, of course, was not the fault of the man.

Charity Ball.

"Will you please accept our most sincere and heartfelt thanks for the most helpful assistance extended to us during mamma's sojourn in the hospital? We cannot find words to express our gratitude and appreciation of your goodness, nor of the love and sympathy that prompted the gift. May God abundantly bless you for your kindness to the strangers in their hour of need."

This is a portion of a letter received by St. Mark's Hospital association a few weeks ago from the daughter of an old lady who was ill at St. Mark's hospital for weeks, and a part of whose expenses the association was able to pay through the generosity of the good people of Salt Lake at the Charity ball a year ago. Another twelve months has passed and again that association is about to come before the public in another Charity ball, that, it is hoped, will be as great a success socially and financially as was the last one. Indeed, larger things are hoped for, since the women of the society have now a record of their stewardship to present. It would not be wise or kind to give the names of the patients cared for by this fund. Indeed, so carefully has the work been done that no one except the two members of the committee in charge of the work of investigation and auditing have knowledge of identities. But some general statement can be made and will be of interest. There was a particularly interesting case of a little colored child who was terribly burned. Her mother was a widow with two other children, and from her small wages as a chambermaid she had paid all she could for the care of the child. The physicians said that further hospital care was necessary for her recovery, and then it was that the association came forward with means to keep the little girl until her recovery was complete. Another case was that of a seamstress deserted by her husband at the birth of her second child. She had taken care of her two little ones, and was so ill that a severe operation was necessary. For seven weeks the good people of Salt Lake, through its hospital association, paid the expenses of this woman at the hospital.

It must be borne in mind that there is no charge made for the physician's services. The doctors give their attention to these patients without charge, and the expense borne by the association is the cost of the hospital care, food, nursing, medicine and so on. There were a number of cases of typhoid fever where the patients were not paupers and had no wish to be a charge on the city or county. They paid all they could, often at a painful sacrifice, and this fund was able to keep them until they were well enough to leave. The story might be continued indefinitely—the tale might be told of a poor telephone operator from one of the Northern towns, the sole support of a family, and undergoing a severe abdominal operation under the care of this organization; an account could be given of a child whose appendix was ruptured, her father dead and her mother working for a living, and for whom the association cared—a list could be presented of several maternity cases, either emergency cases or ones authorized by the committee after investigation, and so the tale goes on.

At the Charity ball last year there were net receipts of $2,342.50. Since the organization of the association in May, 1905, to May the 1st, 1906, there has expended for the care of the indigent sick at St. Mark's hospital $1,265.85. Since that time and through September, the expenses for this work has been $689.37, making a total since the organization of the society of $1,955.22. The net receipts from dues and other sources were $265.33, leaving a balance on hand of $702.61.

The Charity ball this year is to be given early in November, and no pains are to be spared to make it the event of the year socially. Everybody is invited to help this time as generously as before, more generously if possible. The next regular meeting of the association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building next Wednesday morning at half-past 10 o'clock, and any ladies who are interested and would like to help in the work of preparation for this event will be made very welcome, whether they are members of the association or not.

Affairs of the Week.

Mrs. George Phelps Holmes entertained informally at bridge Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were prettily decorated with white chrysanthemums and smilax. Four tables were filled with the players and at the close of the game the honors were awarded to Mrs. George Y. Wallace, Mrs. Russell Tracy, Mrs. J. P. Megeath, and Mrs. Anna Thompson, of Portland.

Mrs. Fred Dorn will entertain at bridge parties Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, the affair on Tuesday being in honor of Mrs. E. C. Parsons, who will leave Salt Lake for Denver, where she will make her future home.

Mrs. George C. Huntington and Miss Bellam will receive their friends informally Tuesday afternoon at St. Mark's hospital.

Mrs. Graham F. Putnam was the hostess of a delightful tea Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Esther Allen. The rooms were decorated with the autumn leaves and vines, and the leaves being in one corner, where punch was served. During the afternoon over 300 guests called to meet Miss Allen. Mrs. Putnam was assisted by Mrs. Alford W. Parson, Mrs. John Tracy, Mrs. Benjamin Raymond, Miss Louise Putnam and Mrs. Alrich Lewis.

Mrs. John Zink was the hostess of a prettily appointed luncheon Thursday afternoon. The table was elegantly decorated with red and yellow autumn leaves, covers being laid for Mrs. A. Phillips, Mrs. E. L. Davis, Mrs. John Strang, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. L. Van Voorhis, and Mrs. William B. Mundy.

Mrs. R. R. Bettenger will entertain at a luncheon Friday afternoon, following by bridge, at her apartments in the Emery-Holmes.

Mrs. J. H. Winwood entertained Tuesday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Lois, who celebrated her first birthday. The parlor and dining room were prettily decorated with autumn leaves and baby blue ribbon, the favors being blue bon bon boxes. The little guests were Mary Holden, Helen Stief, Virginia Stief, Henrietta Smith, Helen Stief, Virginia Stief, Helen and Ruth Tremayne, Harold Davis, Lloyd Davis and Davis Drummond.

Mrs. J. M. Fisher entertained a number of friends at a luncheon Friday afternoon in honor of Mr. Fisher's birthday. The rooms were bright with a profusion of autumn leaves and flowers. A tall cut-glass vase filled with purple and white asters was in the center of the table. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. H. Witbeck and Mrs. Walter Jones.

Mrs. Alexander Cohn entertained at a luncheon on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mr. E. O. Silberstein, of Duluth, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Simon, for a few weeks. Pink cosmos and carnations were used for the table decorations with satin ribbon of the same shade. Covers were laid for twenty-four.

Mrs. Theodore Meyer, Mrs. H. Barnett and Mrs. Milton D. Joseph have issued invitations for a large card party, to be given Tuesday afternoon in Unity hall.

Mrs. Charles E. Richards entertained at a luncheon yesterday afternoon. Mrs. H. D. Bromley poured coffee and Mrs. Elbridge Thomas, tea. The rooms were prettily decorated with red and white
